ratified. The land contains cocoanut, cashew and other plants about six years old and has been enclosed by a strong mud wall along with the adjoining patta land (S.No. 53/3) belonging to the church by right of purchase. The wall is reported to have been put up by the original owners of the adjoining land long before it was purchased by the Church. The church in question is a member of the Parish Union of the Diocese of Mangalore, which is a registered body capable of holding lands in the district - vide item No. 6 in the extract from the membership register submitted to Government with Board's Reference No.B.402-24-1 dated 11-2-1924.

L43 of G.O. 1096 22.7.24 (7)

2. The Collector reports that the Balkunja church owns 24.51 acres of land in the village as specified in the margin apart from the area now in question and that it has no land any where else in the district.

Dry land	6.81 acres
Wet land	17.70 "
Total..	24.51 "
